

To the South Wind,
Over the mountain and snow-decked trees,
That swirls cheerily glisten
You carry your mystical symphonies
While I pause and, spell-bound, listen
And seem but to hear a melodious rhyme
Which your tuneful zephyrs are weaving,
And it tells of a time in the olden time
That knew naught of bitter grieving
And the leaves in their russet splendor.

III.
Then come over the leas, oh, thou gentle breeze,
With the color of far-off flowers,
My spirit enchain with your gladsome glees,
As you murmur of evergreen bowers:
Come on through the trees in their garb of death,
And sing of the Spring to the leaves that are pining;
Encircle my brow with your balmy breath,
And tell me of skies that are ever shining.

IV.
The tapering willows tremble to thee
Through each of their pensile tresses,
The poplars and oak in their tremulous gloe
Wave to your tender caresses;
So ardently woo them with honeyed mouth,
In kisses so thrilling and tender,
Come, anorous wind, from the Sunny South,
And deepen the blushing wood's splendor.

V.
For your coming our maples plaintively sigh
Through the moonlight's frosty gleaming,
Then enwrap them as visions of days gone by
Of gladden old age in its dreaming.
Come whisper of Hope to some lone little bird
That crouches in withering grasses,
And shakes when the icicle branches are stirred,
By the Northern gale as it passes.

VI.
Oh, tell of the clime where magnolias wave
As they bend to your sweet embraces,
And name the dear land of the true and the brave
Where affliction has won its traces.
Oh, bring to me off the scent of the pine,
Which of old you were wont to borrow,
'Twill still send a thrill through this heart of mine
Though it comes with the Southland's sorrow.

A Small Fire For Chicago.

Between three and four o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the Union Central depot building occupied by the Michigan Central, Illinois Central and Chicago, Burlington, Burlington and Quincy Railroads, at the foot of Lake street, and in a short time made such progress as to defy the fire department. The building was entirely consumed, and most of them were saved, but the men were unable to remove a number of fine passenger cars. The losses are estimated at between three and four hundred thousand dollars, and the amount of insurance is unknown. The depot was a frame building put up after the great fire for temporary purpose. While the fire was in progress, and claimed the attention of the fire department, the bell sounded again, and the announcement was made that a large stone front block in State street, between Van Buren and Morrison street, was also on fire. It was fully twenty minutes before the engines reached the ground, and the flames made such progress that five buildings were consumed. The loss by this fire was about $200,000. The buildings had been erected since the great fire.

A country fellow who lapsed having bought some pigs, asked a neighbor for the use of a pen for a few days. Said he: "I have juth been purchatin thome thwine—two thowth and pigth. I want to put them in your pen till I can get a place for them."

"Two thowth and pigth!" exclaimed the neighbor; "why my pen will hardly hold a dozen."

"You don't understaud me, Mr. Bent. I don't thay two thowthand pigths, but two thowth and pigth."

"I here you," said Mr. Bent. "Two thowthand pigth. Why, you must be crazy."

"I tell you again," exclaimed the man, angrily, "I meant not twb thowthand pigth, but two thowth and two pigth."

"Oh, that is what you mean, eh? Well, the pen is at your service."

AN INCH A YEAR.—A Minnesota farmer gives, in the St. Paul Pioneer, his experience of plowing a field for wheat one inch deeper every year. The first year he plowed the land four inches deep, and harvested seven bushels of wheat to the acre.

The next season he plowed one inch deeper and took off twenty bushels per acre.

Continuing to plow one inch deeper the next year, he harvested thirty-one and a half bushels.

A wealthy New York lady supports eight poor families at an expense of $10,000 a year.

Iron in the Blood
PERUVIAN IRON SYRUP
MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.
The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protochloride of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.
This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.
Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass. Pamphlets Free.
SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, No. 96 Harrison Av., Boston.
